

LITTLE RED RIDING
HOOD

Once Upon a Time...
 Oh no! The tales is too childish! Let me tell you the true story of little red riding hood!
 First, our hero is a boy!
 No more little girls lost in the woods!

It is not mother who ask him to go see the grand-mother, he goes for himself because he is an educated boy!

The little boy takes the paths forest, he is not afraid by this.

In his basket there was, a Jam, grapes and bread!

The little red riding Hood, observed the nature around him, the leaf are orange and brown! There are red mushrooms everywhere...

The little boy had already heard of the wolf of this forest. He was not afraid, and the wolf did not show today.

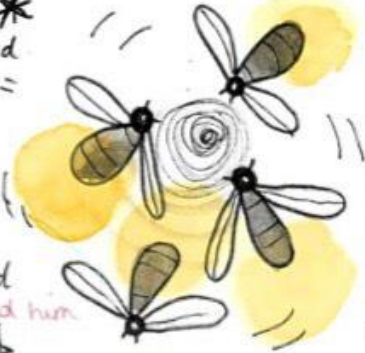

He continued on the way, but he had forgotten the night fell quickly in autumn...!

Luckily he had not forgotten his lantern, and the fireflies guided the little boy in the autumn night.

Something interrupted the boy, he heard someone cry...

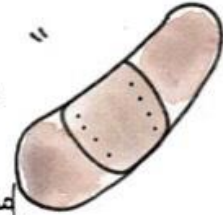

He fearlessly approached the sound of tears. And what he saw surprised him: the forest wolf, crying.

He pair was stuck in the hunter's trap...

He did not think and began to help the wolf, he had in his basket, bandages and plasters

The wolf was not angry and let the little boy take care of his paw.

The little boy healed the wolf. To protect his new friend, the wolf protects little red riding hood for the rest of the night, and accompanied the little boy to his grand-mother.

Do not trust appearances and believe rumors.

The real bad guy was the HUNTER.

THE END

Joanne Tissot, ILL2